

SIMC International
Faculty Lecture Series

2020-2021

INTERNATIONAL FACULTY LECTURE SERIES

WORKING IN TEAMS THE GOOD THE BAD & THE UGLY

DR. JC BRUNO TEBOUL

Professor,
Organisational Communication,
College of Communication,
DePaul University, Chicago, USA

16th September 2020

7pm IST

Dr. Bruno Teboul

This session covered best practices in organisational behaviour, along with some dysfunctions that students should be aware of. The session also highlighted communication strategies to overcome the dysfunctions. To prepare for the session, students were asked to watch some pre-shared videos to help put things in perspective.

INTERNATIONAL FACULTY LECTURE SERIES

DOCUMENTARY FILMMAKING

DR. ANDREW SHARMA

Professor of Media,
Communication Department,
Salisbury University, Maryland, USA

15th October 2020

7:30 p.m. IST

Dr. Andrew Sharma

This session on documentary film making exposed the audiences to various discussions on documentary film making as a practice, the process of documentary film making along with the genres of documentary film making.

INTERNATIONAL FACULTY LECTURE SERIES

DECOLONIALITY, AESTHESIS AND QUEER CULTURES

SANDEEP BAKSHI

Associate Professor, English Studies
University of Paris

27th November 2020

2:00 p.m. IST

Dr. Sandeep Bakshi

This session on Decoloniality, Aesthesis and Queer Cultures was a rigorous intellectual discussion on decolonizing schools of thoughts and academic disciplines as a disposition to research, along with critical discussions on aesthesis and queer culture.

INTERNATIONAL FACULTY LECTURE SERIES

NAVIGATING
THE RESEARCH JOURNEY

DR. LEAH BRYANT

Associate Professor,
Communication Studies
DePaul University, Chicago

24th March 2021

7:00 p.m. IST

Dr. Leah Bryant

This discussion on navigating the research journey was significant to PhD Scholars and faculty members in helping them streamline their research by identifying the key milestones in their individual journeys.

INTERNATIONAL FACULTY LECTURE SERIES

Hear #MeToo:

Contextualising
Intersectionality in Anti-
Rape Feminist Activism

DR. PALLAVI GUHA

Assistant Professor,
Journalism,
Towson University,
Maryland

16th April 2021

7:00 p.m. IST

Dr. Pallavi Guha

This session was the foundation for critical discussions in feminist activism, and understanding the underlying ideological and methodological positions in such research. The discussion was held from the specific perspective of Anti-rape feminist activism.